

Wood Group signs $22 Million agreement

The Gas Turbine Services Division of international energy services company, John Wood Group PLC (“Wood Group”), has signed a Term Maintenance Agreement with EC Zielona Góra SA to provide parts, repairs, field services and risk management for the gas turbine plant located in the city of Zielona Góra, Poland. This partnership represents Wood Group’s first Long Term Service Agreement in Poland and further illustrates Wood Group’s ability to provide customer centric solutions for gas turbine maintenance services worldwide.

Wood Group and EC Zielona Góra have worked closely throughout this process to develop a unique long term solution focused on maintaining the maximum availability for the facility. In addition to displaying a strong technical knowledge, Wood Group provided a flexible approach to the contract structure ensuring that the final agreement met or exceeded the requirements of Zielona Góra.

“Wood Group has been very professional from tender prequalification and tender compliance all the way through to contract negotiation and signing. They are highly qualified and we look forward to working with them and growing a strong partnership over the coming years,” said Piotr Olejniczak, technical director for EC Zielona Góra.

Mitch Robinson, president, sales for Wood Group Contractual Solutions, said: “Wood Group’s continued expansion into new territories not only illustrates our ability to technically execute on a global basis, but also displays the contractual flexibility of Wood Group to work with global customers to meet their plant and location specific requirements.” ■
